

Feel like saying “not-it” when the topic turns to audit?

Parody lyrics:

Now this is a session all about audits
How your life gets flipped and turned upside down
So we'd like to take a minute
Just sit right there
We'll have a conversation how best to prepare.

In uniform guidance is where this is born,
It applies to us all, domestic and foreign.
Policy, accounting, it covers the whole school
Procedures being followed it's the golden rule.

When equipment tags and a spending spree.
Started trouble at a university
They got one little finding and the agency said
“You're paying us back for the people you fed.”

A consultant was called and when they came near
They took one look at effort and sighed “oh dear.”
If anything is certain, this isn't rare
We still thought “why'd us, it's so unfair!”

Reaching the limit, too much on our plate
Repeatedly saying “stop submitting it late!”
We look to our colleagues
Who are already there
NCURA's the source of the wisdom to share
